The Health and Basiness Habit and Policy of the President an

The country will be gratified to learn that the health of the Presdent is restored, and that he vel terday traisacted at large amounts of basiness with the public which occupied several hours scennight without personal inconvenience. After the more important affairs had been disposed of in private id-terviews with officials and beautiful distinguished perso s, the dobre of the reception chamber were spened to the ptople present, who had appeals and applications to tirge ands first the number of cases to be beard seemed formidable, but the President's dignified allability of monner dissipated the fears of the most timid, while it discouraged a gas; rulo s tendency, and the result was. that the business was soon stated, understood, and disposed of. Though giving audience to s ores of people at one time, the President is primpted by the delicacy of a t ue gentleman to address each in-dividud in a quiet undertone, which reassures, b being inaudible to all but the party or parties interested. In this way every one feels unemhis case in its best aspect. The ladies, of course, have the preference at these public business receptions, and if they fail to receive favorable a swers to their applications, they at any rate go away pl ased with the kindnes, and politeness of the President. In this connection, we may and that great injustice is done the President by the sta ement that pardons are granted almost for the asking, to rebels of all degrees, with little discrimitation. On the contrary the greatest circumspec tion is used; and it is only in cases where no end of public justice: that pardons are granted. If excentio al cases have occurred, it is because no administration of human affairs can be ubiquitous, or omniscient.- Wash Chroniele,

22 Polygruny in however, declared to b en crime and all agts passed by the Legis Beture of Utob in relation to it are re projed i The Nation has declared against it and the laws of every State in the Union prehibit it and junish those who practice it. The community here, and name and in ividuals troubled with species of monomania, not connected with the church, consider the action of Congress unconstitutional . Have such thought of the apparent fact that Con gress his the undoubted " power to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the Territories ?"

in the free of the Act of Congress pro-

Allegiance to the General Government fi due from each of its citizens, and no party seems to repel more indignantly the charge of disloyalty and treason than The polygamists of Utah. The practice of polygamy in opposition to the law and in some cases, after they have sub scribed to the oath requiring unwaver ing allegiance, certainly fastens that charge upon them in the eyes of others. whatever it may or may not do in their

The ordinance of July 13th, 1787. plainly states that the object of the legis lation for the Territories at that time by the General Government was For extending the undamental principles of cwil and religious liberty, which form the basis whereon these republics, their lays and constitutions are enacted; to: fix and catablish, those principles as the basis of all taxes no stations and gov eruments which FOREVER HEREAF TER shall be formed." thus limiting the establishment of all future laws for Ter-

All residents on the public domain of the country, must submit in all things to the laws of the country. It is not enough that a practice which is con demned alike by an act of Congress and the common law of each of the States by the Federal Union; be followed in violation of national law, under the pretence or even honest conviction that it is commanded by a higher than national law. Farther than this if even there be no national law, as such, touching the prac tice, if it be inimical to the laws of the several states comprising the Union. it is then illegal in point of effect in a Territory of the United States, which is their joint possession. But the practice of polygamy is forbidden alike by the ontional and all state laws, and is punishable by law in every state.

The argument advanced that it is a portion of the religious taith of the people of Utah, be no excuse whatever for its practise. Their own books condemn it as a crime - fornic alon - as udulttery; and furthermore teach them that "it they keep the Liws of God they need not break the laws of the land." Their "Book of Mormon" represents the Lord as saving "Behold, David and Sulomon truly hier many wives and concubines which thing was abaminable before me and again "Wherefore, my brethern, hear me, and hearken to the word of the Lord: for there shal not any mun among you have save it be one wife." The sur gestion racently made concerning a new revelation aboli-hing polygamy is there fore unnecessary. It they believe in the above and a revelation, they must see that an abolishment of polygamy would be mye c asistent with their faith than its practice. Besides which the pretended regelation authorizing polygamy carries on its face the evidence of for gery. It teaches that no person can en ter into pulyeth) without being commanded of God, and yet inconsistently urges Mrs. Smith to accept those which had been giren . How happens it that some had been given before the authority was Liven's But it is right to whrow the blame where it belongs; and it i. ev ident to our mind, that as the revelation pretends to have been given in 1813 and was not published till 1852, that lust had become the ruling propensity, and when its evidences could be no longer concealed, a revelation, purporting to have been given several years before, was improvised, and ab dated back as to legalize the offspring born into the world of lostful parentage, and elevate the leaderado the character of pinneers of the kingtom under "the celestial law."

It is spin now to entrench themselves behind the doctrine als freedom of con sciences's Their own greed, as expound. first of dought was defined about this definition and dupos, ought to be proceeded against about to be published that evening.

the abolition of polygamy without a qualin for they will be as perfectly sale with regard to the Lord as the nation. and they may "continue to preside time! make the desert blossom like the rose; but if they decide to still follow after their lusts and live in open violation o' the Jaw Mey will discover therewar geance, though it linger, it slumbereth

One Pollar " " " $5.000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be premptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. The makes of this laid Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven Thirties already sold except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 5 per cent, instead of 73-10th in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency on to July 15th at the time them the subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the seven thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continuity after that date.

The alight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to, pay interest in Gold de availed of would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with a x per cent in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent, in currency. This is
